Cooking molds

Silicone cooking molds with a lid are perfect for cooking meat, fish, vegetables and different desserts with no need of using fat or oil.

Silicone retains the entire natural aroma and makes your food well-cooked within very short period of time. The unique construction of the molds allows the dish to be steamed with its natural juices. The cooking molds can be used in ovens, micro ovens and they can be put into the fridges as well. Being collapsible they take very little space. Included you will also find a recipe book that will provide you with wonderful ideas for your dietary meals throughout the whole year.
